Treaty Oak

BAYLOR ST., BETWEEN 5TH AND 6TH STS. AUSTIN

At least 500 years old, the live oak, is the last survivor of a group of trees known as the Council Oaks, used in ceremonies and meetings by local Native American tribes. The tree's name derives from a legend (which may or may not be true) that underneath its branches Stephen F. Austin negotiated the first boundary agreement between the tribes and settlers Poisoned in 1989, but survived.

Free public star parties

Some Wednesday nights while University of Texas is in session the astronomy department sponsors free public star parties on the top roof of Robert Lee Moore Hall, which is located at the southeast corner of Dean Keeton (formerly 26th street) and Speedway. Once you reach RLM, take the elevators to the 17th floor and then follow the signs to the stairs up to the telescope. <http://outreach.as.utexas.edu/public/parties.html>

Also Friday and Saturday while UT is in session the Department of Astronomy hosts free viewing on the Painter Hall Telescope. Dates January 26 - March 10
7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.
<http://outreach.as.utexas.edu/public/painter.html>

Another STAR PARTY

Tour the night skies at Westcave Preserve, a dark sky location convenient to Austin. Star Party nights are an ideal opportunity to enjoy an evening gazing at the stars through a high-quality telescope.

With local astronomers on hand to answer questions, you'll be delighted and amazed by what you see and learn!

$15 adult (18+) | $5 child (4 - 17)

2018 Star Party Dates:

Mar. 10, 7:00 – 9:00pm

Events are weather permitting. To make a reservation, email starparty@westcave.org or call 830.825.3442

<https://westcave.org/events/star-party>

Westcave is located in southwest Travis County, approximately 45 minutes from downtown Austin.
